100 Dollars Reward.

I WILL give the above reward to any person who will return to my possession, negro LAWRENCE, who assumes the surname of FENWICK. This fellow left my farm, on the Wicomico river, in Charles county, Md. on the 6th July, in consequence of his own outrageous conduct towards my overseer. He is a negro of a fine erect figure, good features, a smooth black skin, rather above the middle stature, of a youthful appearance for one of thirty years of age; and of great plausibility and natural smartness. His ears grow remarkably close to his head, and on the inside of his lower lip he has a white mark or spot. I purchased him 4 years ago of the estate of Mrs. P. H. Courts, of this county. I am led (by circumstances which have come to my knowledge since he absconded,) to believe that he will endeavor to make his way to King George county, Va.; should he not take this route, he will probably be met with in the District of Columbia, or in the upper counties of this state, on his way to Pennsylvania. I apprehend he will change his name, and if committed to jail, refuse to state to whom he belongs, as the misconduct which preceded his departure, & his absconding, have all appeared since to have been premeditated. He took all his clothes with him, of which he had a large number; among them—a new bear-skin over-coat, a long close-bodied blue coat, a pair of striped jean pantaloons, one or more white waistcoats, besides many articles of coarse cloathing; these, however, he will probably exchange, or sell them for cash to defray his travelling expenses.

I will give the above reward to any person who will bring him home to me, or FIFTY DOLLARS if confined in jail, and notice given me, so that I recover him.—Should he be taken out of the state, I will also pay all reasonable costs and charges which may attend the bringing him home.

Notice,

To Wheelwrights, Blacksmiths, Tanners, Harness-Makers, Saddlers, Hatters, &c.

BELIEVING as I do, that PROVIDENCE at Fairfax Court-House, would be a suitable situation for mechanics of the above description, I offer to such, lots in that village for sale, on ground rent for ever—will build and furnish suitable houses and rent to them, or furnish brick to them to build with; and invite any who feel disposed to settle there, for the purpose of carrying on their respective trades to advantage, to come and view the situation. It is a very public place, the centre of the county, where the superior and county courts are held. The Little River Turnpike Road passes through this little town from Alexandria westward, and where all the public meetings for the county, &c. are held; and where trades of the aforesaid description being carried on, would meet with great encouragement, and be a public convenience to the country around. No situation can be more healthy—good water, and fire wood cheap. Mechanics of the above description must generally depend on the country people, farmers, &c. to be their customers. Here they would be in a convenient situation for all the purposes. I invite a call, and view for themselves. I would also furnish lots adjacent, from one to five acres each, for cultivation, pasture, &c. on moderate terms; all of which can be shown, and terms made known, on application to RICH'D. RATCLIFFE,
Fairfax Court-House, Va.

100 Dollars Reward.

RAN away on the 28th of April, from the farm of the subscriber, in Dogue Neck, Fairfax Co. Virginia, negro HARRY, aged about twenty three years, about five feet ten inches high, very black, well built, has a considerable impediment in his speech, when spoken to evinces much confusion, and replies almost unintelligibly: had on when he left home, a much worn suit of domestic cloth. I have every reason to believe that he is endeavoring to pass for a free man, and as such went off in some of the bay craft during the late fishing season. All masters of vessels are forewarned from harboring or taking into their employ said negro, under penalty of having the law rigidly enforced against them. I will give twenty dollars, if taken in the county of Fairfax, or district of Columbia; if beyond that distance, the above reward, provided he is secured in jail so that I get him again. THE subscriber has now for sale a number of the most valuable tracts, in both of those rich and improving bodies of lands, and can supply applicants with any number they may wish, and in any part of either territory. FRIDAY, AUGUST 27, 1819.

The SECRETARY OF STATE left Washington on Tuesday last, on a visit to his venerable father and native state.

From the National Intelligencer, Aug. 25.

The possibility of a failure on the part of Spain, to ratify the pending Treaty has given rise to many speculations in the public prints. We have been surprised at the number of those whose language would induce us to suppose they would consider a refusal to ratify the treaty as a signal for WAR against that nation.

With such as advocate this course, the Richmond Enquirer, in the following remarks, has taken the ground of caution—in our opinion, that of wisdom:

"Is it not premature to discuss the question at this moment? Is there not more 'doubt about the matter than these papers 'express? We think it probable that 'Spain will ratify the treaty; tho' Great 'Britain will try to defeat it by all the se-'cret machinations in her power. Should 'the treaty, however, fall to the ground, 'we must then look into all the circum-'stances of the case, and learn what are 'the rights which the law of nations may 'devolve upon us under those peculiar cir-'cumstances. War may ultimately grow 'out of it; because a rejection will not 'fail to excite an indignant and unfriendly 'sentiment in the bosoms of our country-'men against Spain. But is it right for us 'at once to use force, to rush into a war? 'Are we so certain of it, that we will not 'calmly review the question before us?"

As to the machinations of Great Britain to defeat the Treaty, though such exertions may have been made, we know of no other foundation for imputing them to her than conjecture merely. We believe the most important machinations on this head are those of the more recent grantees of Spain, whose grants are made void by the article in the treaty which excludes all grants made after a certain date. But, for any cause, should the Treaty be rejected, it does not follow that War will ensue. Such conduct on the part of Spain might justify a War; but the policy of the United States is Peace, unless a War be unavoidable. The rejection of the Treaty may ultimately lead to a war; because the United States may think it proper to occupy Florida, as a precautionary measure, and Spain may take offence at such occupation.

The light in which the refusal of any power to ratify a Treaty concluded by its Plenipotentiary may be regarded, depends materially on the instructions under which the Minister acted. If a Minister, in making a Treaty, has not abided by his instructions—and there are cases in which a Minister may justifiably do otherwise, as circumstances alter cases—the Power whom he represents may refuse to ratify the compact, without moral offence to the other contracting power; as in the case of the Treaty with Great Britain concluded in 1806 between Messrs. Monroe & Pinkney, and rejected by President Jefferson, without the formality of having previously submitted it to the Senate. This course was loudly censured by the opposition of that day, but, whatever may now be thought of it, was then approved by a large majority of the people. The cases, however, are not altogether analogous, as that was not a treaty of cession or of indemnity.

Should it appear that the Treaty was conformably to the instructions which the Spanish Minister received from his government, and that Spain has wantonly refused to ratify the Treaty, she will have been guilty of an act of bad faith, which might justify a Declaration of War against Spain. It will then be time to consider what course the true interest of the United States invites us to pursue; for, in this case, the pursuit of the interest of the country becomes the duty of the government, its honor not being implicated in such a manner by that act as to require its vindication by war.

We are not, let us avow, among the number of those who would, on every occasion on which it may be justified, "cry havoc, and let slip the dogs of war." What tho' it be true, as has been intimated in reference to this matter, by a paper of federal politics, that the present is a moment auspicious for war, and that "in twelve months we should have a hundred thousand men in the field"—are the blessings of a state of war so transcendant, its results so certainly beneficial, that we shall eagerly grasp it when chance has thrown it in our power to choose or to reject it?

"War in this country," said that eminent statesman who now presides over the War department, when the measures which preceded the war with Great Britain were under consideration in the House of Representatives—"War, in this country, "ought never to be resorted to but when "it is clearly justifiable and necessary; so "much so as not to require the aid of logic "to convince our reason; nor the ardor of "eloquence to inflame our passions. There "are many reasons why this country should "never resort to war but for causes the "most urgent and necessary. It is sufficient that, under a government like ours, "none but such will justify it in the eye "of the nation."

To superadd comment to this extract, which accident has opportunely thrown in our way, would be to weaken the force with which it must impress the mind of every reader. We deprecate the restlessness, the love of change, the passion for conquest, which give birth to the desire for a state of war. So prevalent is it, that we doubly rejoice in the belief that, at present, there is, in our opinion, no prospect of the interruption of our peaceful attitude.

Our belief is unchanged, that the Treaty will be ratified. Should it not, we should not hesitate in opinion as to the course which it would be equally just and expedient to pursue. Let Congress, in that event, authorise the President to occupy Florida as a precautionary measure, to prevent its continuation by any other power, and to keep in our possession the means of indemnifying our citizens for spoliations committed under the Spanish authority. Such a measure, for the protection of our essential interests, it appears to us, would be almost indispensable. It would not be an act of war; and would not provoke a war, unless Spain should have predetermined on it.

On Monday the several officers of the penitentiary were examined before Judge Brice, respecting the circumstances attending the escape of the nine criminals which were mentioned yesterday.

It appeared that the locks of the doors of three of the rooms in which the criminals lodge at night, had been unlocked; the locks being on the outside of the room doors, in a passage in which the guard was accustomed to walk; that the only person on guard when they escaped was Richard Chapman, who stated, that the criminals after getting out of their lodging rooms, knocked him down, and passing him, escaped at the front door; that he fired a pistol after they passed to alarm the keeper and officers.

The explanation of Chapman being unsatisfactory, and the circumstances being such as to induce strong suspicions of his having aided in or connived at the escape, he was committed for trial. [Fed. Gaz.

Philadelphia, August 23.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

On Saturday afternoon, about 6 o'clock, a boy named Snyder, about 8 years of age, standing on a pile of wood on Chesnut-st. wharf, two sticks of the wood gave way, and he was precipated into the river, without uttering a cry, or making any other noise than was consequent upon his fall.—Another boy, named Nicholas, about 11 years of age, who was on another part of the wood pile, instantly cried out, "Murder! Murder! save this child, save this child," and jumped into the river. A third boy, named Schoch, older than the two first mentioned, on board a ship, which lay along side the wharf at a few feet distance, hastened to the bowsprit, from it to jump in and seize the small boy. As he attempted to clamber up the bowsprit, his agitation and anxiety made him inattentive, and he slipped off into the water, near where the hat of the little boy was floating. Nicholas was able to swim and was clamarous for help; Snyder had paddled and buoyed himself up for a point of time, but his fears and his strength had just given way, and he was about descending below the surface when the boy Scoch seized him under the arm and lifted him above water. It was impossible for Schoch long to sustain Snyder, he was descending to the bottom, just as a colored man, who had plunged in for the purpose, reached the spot, and caught him by the leg. At this period of time another colored man with a boat arrived, and took in the man and the three boys, all of whom had their clothes on.—The smaller boy soon recovered, so far as to be able, accompanied by the colored men, to walk home.—He was attended by a crowd of people who presented him, pale as death, to his mother, whose chair he had not left half an hour before in perfect health.

While we trust this narrative will operate as a caution to children, we feel some of the pride of human nature in making a statement, from which it appears that two boys and a man instantly plunged into the river, to save a child unknown to two of them. [Democratic Press.

HORRIBLE CRIME!

At the July term of the Jefferson circuit court, which closed on Saturday last, Hardyman, the slave of R. C. Anderson, jun. Esq. was indicted by the grand jury, for the commission of a rape on the person of a young lady of this county, an orphan, of respectable connexions. At his trial, some difficulty was experienced in obtaining an unbiassed jury, from the general detestation of the diabolical deed. The perpetration of this highest of offences, was clearly proved upon the prisoner, by the unfortunate girl herself and several other witnesses. The jury retired but a few minutes, and returned with a verdict of guilty. On Thursday last he was brought up to receive the judgment of the court, which was pronounced in a most solemn and impressive manner by the hon. Judge Oldam, who ordered the execution to take place on the 25th instant.

Duvall, Davis and Thruston for complainant—Gwathmey for prisoner.

John Davis & Danl. Mercier, have been condemned at Nassau for piracy, in having taken the Contradiction of Baltimore, sold her cargo, and converted her into a privateer. They were to be executed on the 19th ult. A true bill had also been rendered by the grand jury against Gen. M'Gregor, for aiding and authorising the aforesaid piracy committed by Davis & others. We wish, with all our hearts, success to the patriots of South America; but we sincerely hope that every act of piracy may be punished, and the nefarious practice at once put down by the co-operating aid of all nations. The state Bank at Trenton, the Northampton Bank, and the Farmers' Bank at Reading, have stopped specie payments. The notes are now so far depreciated that no sales of them are made.

COWS.

Farmers are not fully aware of the productive value of this animal. If well fed, and suitably treated, they yield an immense profit to the owner. A late English journal states the annual produce, clear of expense, from a single cow, in milk and butter, at 41*l.* 5*s* 11*d*; equal to $180.

The Courier of the Oronoco, just received, gives very circumstantial details of the operation of general Bolivar, and general St. Ander, commanding in Cassanare, from May down to very late. It was generally believed that general Bolivar, by moving to the eastward, had contemplated moving into the center of New-Grenada, and dislodging the royal agents. By these advices it would seem that this rumor was a ruse de guerre, and that instead of taking that direction, he had formed a plan of co-operation with general St. Ander, who commanded the republican force in Casanare. The movements of Bolivar very soon produced an alarm in the royal camp, and Morillo abandoned the position which he had taken in the early part of the year with so much boasting, on the Achagua. As soon as Bolivar had opened his communication with St. Ander, the latter operated on the royal force then at Pore, with so much success, as to compel the royal general to retire upon the mountains which skirt Tunja; and in the precipitancy of his retreat, left behind him about 400 Venezuelians with their equipments, who joined the republican standard.

The details of those movements are very interesting. St. Ander selecting a favorable position, sought to discover the disposition of the enemy for a decisve battle, and in the overture made several prisoners: the royal general retired into the fastnesses of the forests; and St. Ander seized upon the occasion to detach a column of infantry to occupy a position which the royalists must pass, and cut off his convoy—it appears that in this enterprize, St. Ander completely succeeded, and the royal army was driven to great extremity.

A position or pass in the mountains was taken with its garrison, and the three European officers in command. St. Ander had determined to keep up an incessant harrassing war, and give the royalists not an hour's rest; the royalists retired with great dexterity, though under the greatest disadvantages, and particularly from desertions and the want of subsistence. St. Ander acknowledges that it was in his power to bring the royalists to action on one occasion, but the policy of the campaign had been previously determined to risk nothing; and that a guerilla war was that best adapted to the circumstances.—When those advices came away, Bolivar was still in pursuit of Morillo.

There is a correspondence with general St. Ander, which shows the affairs of Casanare and New-Grenada generally, as most flattering. In every village through which the royal troops marched, they found it abandoned by the population of all ages; and wherever the republican armies appeared they were joined by the whole male population.

A corps of the republican army was marched upon Sogomoso, within a few days march of Santa Fe de Bagota.

In the formation of a constitution for Venezuela, it seems, the principle recommended by John Adams has been adopted of a senate for life; some spirited protests have been entered against this aristocracy, and it is very certain that this principle will not be suffered to remain. We have a great deal to say, on a suitable occasion, in relation to those alarming attempts upon the equal rights of mankind; and the attempt in so early a stage of a revolution to violate the principle of election and responsibility. It appears to be the fate of human efforts to establish liberty, to be crossed by the ambition, or the jealousy, or the envy of men, who owe every thing to the cause which they betray. Venezuela has suffered like Buenos Ayres, through the perfidy of a selfish ambition. We should long since have made these matters a subject of discussion, but fully persuaded of the ultimate triumph of liberty over all faction and traitors, we did not like to appear among those pretended friends of liberty who have stigmatized the oldest men of South America as freebooters, and pirates, and brigands. LIVERPOOL, July 5th, 1819.

There has been a good demand for cotton all this week, particularly for bowed and New Orleans, prices of which have advanced 1-2d per lb. on the last quotations, and holders are looking forward with more confidence to still higher prices. The dealers have shown a disposition to buy freely, but several parcels have been taken on speculation; Brazils are steady; Pernams and Bahias of good quality are wanted, and not many parcels of that description at market; common Pernams plentiful and dull of sale; in East India cotton no alteration; good Bengals scarce and in demand for 7 1-2d a 8d; Surats but little inquired for. Yesterday there were two public sales consisting of 840 Demerara and Berbice, of which 454 only were sold, qual. ordinary to good 12 3-4d a 16 1-4d, average 14 1-4; 60 Barbadoes, of which 30 only were sold, quality fair 13d. The Demerara and Berbice were mostly of low quality, a description not much in request, consequently the sale went off heavily at a reduction of 1-2d per lb. The sales by private consist of 124 Sea Island, 2s a 2s 5d; and 10 extra fine 3s; 34 stained 1s 3 1-2 a 1s 6d; 10 Bourbon, 16d; 4000 bowed, 10 1-2d a 12 1-2d, & a few choice at 13d; 2200 N.Orleans, 11 a 14 1-2d; 500 Pernams, 17d a 18d; 1300 Bahia 15 3-4d a 17d;—2400 Maranham 15d a 16d, of which 1500 were sold on board at 15 1-4d a 15 3 4d; 90 Demerara, 13 3-4d a 14 1-2d; 220 Surat, 7 a 9d; 1500 Bengal, 6d a 8d per lb. making in the whole 12,872 bags, of which we estimate about 400 to have been taken on speculation.

Import of cotton into Liverpool in the first six months of 1819, against the import in the same period last year:

	Bags.		Bags.
America	128,985	against same prd. 1818,	116606
Brazil and Portugal	56,545	do.	61,210
Dutch colonies, &c.	12,659	do.	12,020
East-India	47 543	do.	26,246
Other ports	562	do.	2,435
	246,294		218,517

Being an increase in the first half of this year of 27,777 bags. The import last month was 40,757 bags, (making the supply of the the last two months 105,784 bags) and the sales to the 2d inst. inclusive 36,000, making the gross sales of the last six months about 200,000 bags.

Of 1350 casks British Plantation Sugar brot forward by auction this week, about 1050 casks found purchasers; the sale of Barbados went off briskly at a trifling advance on former prices; the subsequent sales however became less animated, and a decline of 1s. per cwt. on last week's prices was submitted to; very little done by private. Yesterday 95 chests Brazil Sugar were offered by auction, when only 21 chests fine white were disposed of at 47s. 3d. per cwt.—61 puncheons Trinidad and 104 puncheons Demerara Molasses have been attempted by auction, the whole of the former were withdrawn, and of the latter 34 puncheons sold at 24s 9d a 26s per cwt. At public sale yesterday 200 bags Pimento were bought in at 6½d per lb. A further advance of 8s a 10s per cwt. on Coffee, in consequence of the rapid improvement which has taken place in the London market, where prices still rule 10s a 15s per cwt. above ours; yesterday a parcel of 1630 bags and 80 casks Demerara was put up to auction and withdrawn, the holders not being disposed to accept present rates; 35 casks and 40 barrels Jamaica were at the same time offered which sold at 110s 3d for fine ordinary, up to 127s 3d for good middling; in the course of the week 200 bags Brazil were sold by private at 105s. and a lot of St. Domingo at the same price. Nothing has been done in Cocoa. The sales in Dyewoods consists of about 110 tons Logwood at 6*l* a 6*l* 5*s* for Campeachy; and 83 tons Cuba Fustic off the quay at 9*l* 5*s* per ton. There is a good enquiry for Rice, and several sales of Carolina have been effected at 22 a 23s pr. cwt. Most of the parcel of Philadelphia Quercitron Bark withdrawn from public sale last week has been forced off by private at 17s. up to 19s for fine quality. In Ashes some considerable sales by private have been made at our quotations, and at public sale on Monday 60 barrels Boston Pots, stained went off at 37s a 38s for firsts, and 31s. 3d. cwt. for seconds. The transactions in Naval Stores consists of 100 barrels Carolina Tar from the ships side at 15s per barrel, and 300 barrels Turpentine of good quality at 12s 6d per cwt. We have to notice a further decline in Barrel Staves. On Thursday 52*m* Baltimore sold off the quay at 13*l* 10s a 14*l* 10s and 3*m*. Hogsheads brought 23*l* 15s per m. In consequence of the unfavorable state of the weather our Corn market continues to advance, and Wheat may be quoted at 6d per bushel higher; there has been an extensive business done in sour Flour, on speculation, and several thousand barrels have changed hands at gradually improving prices.—Sweet Flour both in and out of bond is also in good demand at our quotations. Very little doing in Tobacco, and prices remain the same. We remain, respectfully, Sir, your obedient servants,

WM. & JAMES BROWN & CO.

For the Georgia Advertiser.

MR. HANNON,

Since neither Tennessee Bacon nor Irish Potatoes will pass current here, as a circulating medium, at par value; nor as attornies in fact for specie, or its deputies, bank-notes,—during their temporary absence from the state, allow me to propose an occasional issue of the philosophical compound as a succedaneum.—Like all compounds, mine are more or less composed of EXTRACTS—and the present shall bear the title of ADVERSITY.

"Riches are the gift of Heaven, and often the reward of virtuous actions, but not to be esteemed our only happiness in having, or misery in wanting them.

"Adversity, in the esteem of the world, is the greatest affliction; yet if considered aright, and improved as it ought to be, is a great blessing in itself, an happy estate, and yields no such cause of discontent, or that men should think themselves hated of God, or forsaken of him; for men in the greatest prosperity are often like trees, laden with fruit, that break with the weight of their boughs, and are ruined by their own greatness. Their wealth is their misery; and though they do all that is possible to comply with the demands of their princes, yet they often miscarry, and only fatten themselves to be devoured by a NERO—a TIBERIUS"—or, a Spanish Patriot!

PER EXAMPLE.

"Zeno, a philosopher of Citium, a town of Cypress, turning merchant for his better support, was always unfortunate by losses at sea, insomuch that he was reduced to one small vessel; and having advice that it, with all its lading, was also cast away, and nothing saved, he entertained the news with cheerfulness, saying,—"O! Fortune, thou hast acted wisely in forcing me to throw off the rich attire of a Merchant, to put on the mean and despised habit of a scholar, and return me back to the school of Philosophy, where there is nothing to lose, and the most satisfactory and durable things to be gained."

——And here Mr. Editor, permit me to ask you to exercise your own sagacity in finding out the possibility of the existence of such magnanimity of soul among the moderns. But the story continues, and states that

"After this, Zeno so improved in learning, that King Antigonus II. had him in great esteem for his knowledge and integrity, and when he died, extremely lamented the loss of him. He was father of the Stoics, and taught—that men, having two ears, and but one mouth, should hear much and speak but little."

And so, Sir, taking the hint,
I bid you good morning.

TIMON.

TURKISH CUSTOMS.

In Captain Paddock's narrative of his shipwreck, capture by the Arabs, and of his ransom at Mogadore, are found many curious incidents well deserving of notice. The mode of collecting the import revenue at Mogadore, is remarkable for its simplicity. There are no custom house bonds, no oaths, and of course no false swearing. If the importer pays a certain proportion, say one tenth to government, the packages are made up into ten equal parts, of which the governor takes one, and grants a permit to the merchant to sell the remainder. So on the other hand, when exports are taxed to a certain amount, the proper officer is notified by the merchant, that he intends to ship certain articles; he attends, and after counting several of the packages, passes on the rest without so much nicety of examination. The whole amount of the duty is then added up, which the merchant pays down, and receives a permit to export his cargo. Notwithstanding the simplicity of this plan for the collection of the revenue, the author mentions that smuggling is very rare. Captain Paddock was once walking in company with a friend, through the streets of Mogadore, in the night, and beheld a man lying upon the ground. He expressed his astonishment, that a Musselman, denied by his religion, from an indulgence in spirituous liquors should be found in such a state of inebriety. He was told that this man was not intoxicated; that he was a watchman; that he was bound to lay with his ear close to the ground, so that he might be the better enabled to hear any disturbance, and not to rise from his position, unless some disturbance was made; that if he was found slumbering in that posture, death would probably be his portion.

This estate, in a neighborhood celebrated for health and good water, is well adapted to grazing and to the growth of corn and wheat. The turnpike road leading from Alexandria to Warrenton is finished, with the exception of seven miles. The improvements are a two story house, about fifty feet long, in the suburbs of Warrenton; two houses for overseers; a large barn, stables, and every necessary house for a farm: On the property are 3 good apple orchards, and a variety of other fruit trees. This tract is now divided into two farms—each of which has a superabundance of wood, and is laid off into six fields under good fences, with running water in every field. I believe there is a sufficiency of stone on the land to enclose the whole tract. Both farms have been under a course of clover and plaister for several years, by which they have been much improved, as the plaister acts with very great effect. The subscriber will divide the tract to suit purchasers. The terms are one third down, with an accommodating credit on the balance, if he sells a part; but only one fourth if the purchaser buys the whole tract, together with the stock of horses, cattle, sheep, hogs, the farming utensils of every description, and all the provision that may be on hand for the support of the farm.

JOHN HOPKINS

Hill and Dale, April 20.

Gunston for Sale.

THIS elegant estate is situated on the Potomac, 16 miles below Alexandria—it is bounded on three sides by the Potomac and Pohick creek, and contains nearly 3,000 acres of land, level and fertile, to which are attached six shad and herring fisheries, two of which command the river channel. This land will be laid off in four tracts, so as to have one or more fisheries to each; these tracts will be again divided if requisite. This estate is level and beautifully situated, very fertile, and remarkably healthy. Plaister acts with an effect equal to that of any part of Virginia or Pennsylvania.—I have used 500 bushels in twelve months, and such is its beneficial operation, that were I to keep this land I should considerably increase the quantity. A manufacturing mill is distant about two miles, on a stream navigable for vessels carrying 1200 bushels of wheat, where the Baltimore and Dist. of Columbia prices are given for grain: being bounded on 3 sides by water, a small extent only of fence is necessary to inclose the whole: it would be admirably adapted to grazing. The improvements are a large and very substantial brick mansion, 40 by 70 feet, with every necessary outhouse, three commodious barns, houses for Negroes, and fish houses at each of the fisheries. 120,000 bricks and 1000 bushels of lime are just burnt on the premises. There is a considerable extent of live fence, both useful and ornamental, two orchards of well selected apples and peach, besides an abundance of other choice fruit. More than 150 acres are in clover, 200 in corn, and land is in preparation for sowing 250 bushels of small grain. Any quantity of hay can be cut from the low grounds, some of which (and all might,) have been reclaimed at a trifling expense. The river and creeks, abound with wild fowl, particularly canvass backs, the woods with deer and a variety of other game. Mules, cattle, highly improved sheep, farming utensils and household furniture can be had. The terms of sale will be accommodating. Property in any of the cities, negroes, bank stock, western lands, or lands near the Ridge, will be taken in payment.—Letters must be addressed to me at Pohick Church, Fairfax county, Virginia.

S. Drew, Merchant Tailor,

Removed from Fairfax-street to the corner of King and Columbus streets, and his prices falling

RESPECTFULLY acquaints his customers and the citizens in general that he has removed as above, where he will study to give satisfaction. He has by him a small but well assorted stock of goods, which will be found on inspection to be of the best quality, the whole of which he wishes to sell low for cash, and as further inducements to purchasers he offers to cut out any goods, bought of him to any size or pattern gratis.

S. Drew aware, of the advantage a ready money business has over one where long credit is given, thinks that a distinction ought to be made in the prices in each case: and as the price of provisions are low at present, he is glad to be able to announce to those customers who will feel disposed to pay him ready money for his work, that he will reduce the price of making to them according to the present journeymen's wages; and to prevent any supposed imposition on the one hand or disatisfaction on the other he is willing to be governed by the printed regulations of prices by which the journeymen are paid in Alexandria.

N. B. Bread, flour, beef, groceries, liquors or any thing valuable taken in exchange for clothes.

S. Drew has this day opened a tavern in the same house, where he has laid in a a supply of Philadelphia and the district porter and ale, together with liquors of the best quality, and he feels confident that he shall be able to give satisfaction to all who will please to favor him with a call.—He is fitting up his house for the accommodation of boarders, travellers, &c. and from its central situation, good beds and stabling, together with other requisites, he presumes that it will be found a convenient establishment. may 25

PROSPECTUS

Of a new periodical work to be published in the city of Washington, entitled the Washington Theological REPERTORY.

EDITORS. { Rev. Wm Hawley, Washington,
Rev. Wm. H. Wilmer, Alexandria,
Rev. Oliver Norris, Alexandria,
Rev. Reuel Keith, Georgetown.

Assisted by several other literary gentlemen of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

IF any apology were necessary for this undertaking, it may be found in the fact, that there is no publication on a similar plan, in all that section of our country lying south of New-York, and but one in the whole of the United States. It has been matter of equal surprize and regret, that the Episcopal Church should be so far behind other Christian denominations, in similar efforts to disseminate the principles of religion and piety. At a period like the present, when the Lord is preparing his way on earth, by the most remarkable efforts of human agency, and the most wonderful operations of his providence and grace—when we perceive in every part of Christendom, a praise-worthy emulation to share in the glorious work of filling the earth with the knowledge of the only true God, and his Son Jesus Christ; it would seem criminal for any to withhold their exertions, however feeble, in the great enterprize of human happiness and salvation. The editors have, therefore, felt it their duty to make this humble effort to supply this acknowledged deficiency on the part of the church in this section of the country, and to bear their share in the common exertions of Christians to promote the Redeemer's Kingdom. And having obtained the services of a gentleman, in whose talents and principles they have confidence, whose time will be wholly devoted to the superintendence of the work, they feel encouraged to solicit the patronage of the public.

The publication will be conducted under the immediate inspection and control of the above named editors, who will form a committee to review every article intended for publication. The principles upon which it will be conducted are those of the bible, as illustrated in the articles, Liturgy and Homilies of the Protestant Episcopal Church. As members of this church the editors will feel bound to support the Apostolical character of her institutions, the pious tendency of her rites and ceremonies, and the evangelical nature of her doctrines But in these, and all other discussions, they hope never to loose sight of that great law of charity which teaches us to "preserve the unity of the spirit in the bond of peace."

Acting upon those catholic principles, so long and so successively pursued by "The Christian Observer," their chief object will be to inculcate sound theological knowledge, and to delineate and recommend pure and vital religion. They trust therefore, that while the members of every Christian denomination may find something edifying and instructive, none will discover any just cause for offence in the pages of this work. General subjects of biblical criticism, practical illustrations of scriptural truth, the biography of illustrious persons, evidences of the truth of revelation, essays on the history and polity of the church, reviews of interesting publications, religious, literary and philosophical intelligence—in short, whatever is connected with the promotion of religion, humanity and literature, will find a place in this repository.

The testimony of experience supersedes the necessity of dwelling on the advantages of a periodical publication on the plan proposed. Its obvious tendency will be to render the various departments of religious knowledge more easy and accessible, and give a more ready currency and wider circulation, to those great truths which involve the present welfare and future destiny of man.

It will tend powerfully to stimulate the exertions of the editors, and console them under the difficulties attendant on the prosecution of this work, amidst many other avocations, should it prove the means under the blessing of God, of enriching any of its readers with the saving knowledge of Christ, and prepare them for a participation in the felicity and glory of his heavenly kingdom. With this hope they commit it into his hands, and confidently solicit their brethren of the clergy and laity to assist them in carrying into effect the objects of the undertaking.

TERMS OF THE WORK.

A volume of the Repertory shall consist of twelve numbers, of which one shall be published on the first day of every month, containing thirty-two large octavo pages, stitched in blue, and attended with a table of contents.

The paper used in the work shall be good, and the typography executed with the greatest care.

The price of a volume is two dollars, payable in advance; to such as omit the advance, two dollars and fifty cents.

It is designed to enlarge the size of the work, without increasing the price, as soon as one thousand subscribers shall be obtained.

Communications and remittances may be directed to any of the editors, post paid.

Any person becoming responsible for five subscribers, shall receive a sixth copy gratis.

The first number may be expected in the month of July. June 26
